Arguments Completed and Case Was Given to Jury
at Noon.

Believed Trial Will Result in Hung Jury.

NINE ARRESTS MADE TODAY

Benton, Ky., June 18.—(Special.)—Arguments were finished today at noon in the first night rider trial against Burnett Phelps for the alleged participation in the Birmingham raid. While the trial was going on Sheriff Peter Eley served nine warrants on witnesses from Lyon county, who were indicted yesterday by the grand jury. The men arrested are: Johnson, Lady, Tom Duncan, Ed Fox, John Prescott, Willis Brown, Ed Murray and Jodie Lee. The men all gave bond for $750 each and were released. As soon as the remainder of the warrants are written out Sheriff Eley will place the men indicted under arrest as soon as possible.

Four more soldiers arrived last night from Murray and strengthened the local camp of eight men. The soldiers are in camp, and nearby is a camp of negro witnesses. The soldiers were sleeping at the hotel until the arrival of the negroes to testify, and in order to give them proper protection camp was pitched.

The trial of Lon Holly for the murder of Reece Fisher, is set for this afternoon, but probably it will be continued until Monday and the trial of Sam Collier, an alleged night rider, will be taken up, as the jury has been empaneled.

The names of the men against whom indictments were returned yesterday have not been made public but it is understood those implicated by Blick in his testimony are the ones indicted. They were: Hugh Rodgers, Ivan Rodgers, John Hill, Henry Towns, Thuse Duncan, George Duncan, Kenny Bloodworth, Kenny Hayden, John Bridges, Amon Fulk, Dave Payne, John Fox, Ed Fox, Johnson Lady, John Whalen, Stone Wilson, Dock Culp, Cleve Kelly, John Prescott, Henry Eddington, Jack Wells, Elvin Hill, Willard Towns, Ed Mur-

INNES BAND COMING

Innes and his band are coming to Paducah next week, Thursday, June 25, for two performances, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, at the Chautauqua auditorium. The band comes at the instigation of the Woman's club and the concerts will be held under their auspices, the club receiving a percentage of the proceeds.

Innes' band is well known to Paducahans. It is one of the best military bands in the country and has traveled from coast to coast, everywhere meeting with great success. It was here last spring and gave two very fine performances and no doubt will be well received this year.

Mr. Edgar Earmhardt, of Florence Station, is critically ill of anabitis.

WEATHER.

FAIR

Generally fair and decidedly warm tonight and Friday. Highest temperature yesterday, 88; lowest today, 72.

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Summary of Platform Adopted by Convention.

The preamble declares that the party that destroyed slavery preserved the union, restored the nation's credit and established a sound financial system meets new problems of government with the same courage and capacity with that which solved the old question.

Praises Roosevelt.

"In this greatest era of American advancement the Republican party has reached its height of service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt and in no other period since the national sovereign was won under Washington or preserved under Lincoln, has there been such mighty progress. Roosevelt's accomplishments have been the brave, impartial enforcement of law in the prosecution of illegal trusts, exposure and punishment of evil doers in public service, the regulation of rates and service of transportation lines, the arbitration of labor disputes and the amelioration of conditions of wage earners.

Adherence to Policies Promised.

"We declare our unflinching adherence to the policies thus inaugurated and pledge their continuance under a Republican administration.

"We congratulate the people on the safe passage of the recent financial disturbance and the outlook is for a complete restoration of prosperity."

Legislation Commended.

Commends the following legislation despite the Democratic filibuster:

the emergency currency bill, the appointment of national monetary commission, employers and government liability laws and measures for the greater efficiency of army and navy, increased widows' pensions and the child labor law.

For Tariff Revision.

Declares unequivocally for tariff revision at a special session to be called in March.

Favors the establishment of maximum and minimum rates to be administered by the president within laws and limitations to meet the discriminations of foreign countries, the purpose being to protect American manufacturers, farmers and producers and maintain a high standard of wage earners.

Currency System.

The party is committed to the development of a permanent currency system which will be automatic in its operation. Favors postal savings banks and the amending of the anti-trust law to give the federal government a greater control and secure greater publicity of affairs of corporations in interstate commerce, amending the interstate commerce law to allow railroads to make traffic agreements subject to the commission's approval.

Declares for national supervision to prevent over issue of stocks and bonds by interstate carriers.

Pledges are made for a continuance of the policy to lighten the burden and increase opportunities for those who toil.

Anti-Injunction Plank.

The anti-injunction declaration is that while the Republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, both state and federal, and ever insist that the powers to enforce processes and protect liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. "It is believed, how-

STATE HAS NO MONEY TO PAY BILLS

Frankfort, Ky., June 18.—In a letter to the sheriff of Mason county, Treasury Farley states that there is no money in the state treasury to pay warrants. He says officials are trying to avert an extra session. The treasurer blames the shortage on the last administration, which, though it left over a million dollars in the treasury, it also left so many unpaid bills that the surplus was cut down in two days to practically nothing. He asks creditors of the state to have patience.

PLATFORM ADOPTED AND NOMINATING SPEECHES BEING MADE.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

EX-CHIEF JUSTICE BURNAM ELECTED COMMITTEEMAN

Chicago, June 18.—After a deadlock lasting through the night and for a while this morning, the Kentucky delegation today selected Judge A. R. Burnam, of Richmond as national committeeman. The fight between Fisher and Ernst has been spectacular. Three ballots were taken last night, the result being a tie each time and today brought no solution until Judge Burnam was sprung as a compromise candidate. Fisher has made a game fight and deserves credit for it. Ernst claimed the backing of Taft, but Fisher had Hitchcock's endorsement, and when the matter was put up to Taft Monday he announced that the matter was with the Kentucky delegation, which implied that the statement sent out that he was for Ernst was unauthorized.

Burnam's brother-in-law, who supported Fisher throughout, changed his vote before the vote was announced. Fisher was elected before the delegate changed. Burnam is ex-chief justice of the court of appeals.

J. M. WORTEN WINS SUIT AGAINST REGISTER

Frankfort, Ky., June 18.—(Special.)—The appellate court affirmed the case of the Register Newspaper company against J. M. Worten.

Mr. Worten sued the newspaper for libel and was awarded $1,000 damages in the Livingston county court.

Worten sued for $20,000 damages claiming that by articles and editorials attacking him personally and professionally his law practices at Paducah was utterly ruined. The case was hard fought in the lower courts and considerable bitterness was injected into the trials.

SENATOR DOLLIVER.

Prominent vice-presidential possibility, whose boom has sanction of the Taft managers.

Illinois First to Respond to Roll Call and "Uncle Joe" Placed in Nomination--- Fairbanks Name Jeered.

Unbounded Enthusiasm Marks Close of Contest For Honor---The Outcome Apparent From Beginning.

Convention Hall, Chicago, June 18.—After the adoption of the platform the roll call for presidential nominations began. No state responded until Illinois was reached. Then Congressman Boutell presented the name of Joseph Cannon for president. Boutell's speech was frequently interrupted with applause. Congressman Fordney, of Michigan, seconded Cannon's nomination. Governor Hanley, of Indiana, presented the name of Fairbanks.

Congressman Doderberg, of East St. Louis, seconded the nomination of Cannon. W. O. Emory, a negro, of Macon, Ga., seconded the nomination of Foraker.

While speeches were being made Taft supporters prepared for a general demonstration for their candidate. American flags were scattered through the hall among Taft delegates ready for waving when nominated. This afternoon New York delegates began pushing Congressman Sherman's boom for vice-president. It was decided to hold a caucus as soon as the presidential nomination is made and plan to boost Sherman's candidacy for the vice-presidency.

While Hanley was talking the crowd became unruly and jeered every mention of Fairbank's name. Mayor Bookwalter, of Indianapolis, seconded Fairbanks and the crowd again hissed. Bookwalter angrily exclaimed, "Evidently the slow movement of the steam roller is too slow for the gentlemen running this convention." Shaking his fist at the Ohio delegation, he shouted, "Fairbanks is a real Republican. Under his direction we have made Indiana a Republican stronghold. I was on the committee on credentials and blushed because we didn't return a minority report. But didn't because we love the party more than any candidate." Then General Woodard, of New York, nominated Hughes. Burton followed, nominating Taft.

Convention Hall, Chicago, 5:30 p. m.—Pandemonium broke loose when Senator Burton took the platform, but lasted only five minutes. Alice Roosevelt waved a big Taft banner and when Burton concluded, a terrific applause followed. Texas raised a banner with the inscription "As pants the heart for cooling the stream, so Texas pants for Taft," a huge pair of trousers was attached. The banner carried to Ohio the delegation and the procession of state banners to Ohio quarters then began. Practically all states but Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin joined. The demonstration lasted nearly half hour.

POSTPONE TOURNAMENT

Game tournaments in the Chess, Checker and Whist club have been postponed until the fall on account of hot weather. The interest in the club now centers in the baseball game with the Elks on July 30. Mr. Parker Chastaine is the club team manager. The game will be played for the benefit of the Confederate monument in Lang park.

STREET IMPROVEMENT

Tennessee street improvements will be finished this week from Third to Thirteenth street, by Contractor G. W. Katterjohn, who will then begin work on Ohio street from Third to Twelfth street. If the aldermen ratify the council's action of letting the contract for improving Broadway and Jefferson street from Ninth to Eleventh streets, the Southern Bitulithic company will begin immediately. The traction company will lay double tracks there.

RATIFY CONTRACT

Having done all that is possible to get economical bids for the improvement of Broadway and Jefferson street from Ninth to Eleventh street, the board of aldermen are expected to fall in line with the council's action and ratify the contract tonight with the Southern Bitulithic company. Bids were received twice and every effort was made to get rock-bottom prices for the property owners abutting the improvements. Those particular stretches of streets always have been eye-sores, and the board desires to get them improved before bad weather.

Chicago, June 18.—The convention was somewhat slow in assembling this morning and it was after 10:20 o'clock when Chairman Lodge called the body to order. The weather was extremely warm and many delegates were in shirt sleeves. A big sign reading, "Let an injunction be issued against the Republican convention to restrain the nomination of Taft," hung across Wabash avenue near the convention hall. All of the delegates say the source is a mystery.

The Rev. John Wesley Hill, of New York, opened the convention with prayer and Senator Lodge presented the report of the resolutions committee.

The crowd couldn't hear Senator Lodge it became so noisy. Few cheers were given at the mention of Roosevelt.

The anti-injunction plank was greeted with mingled shouts of "yes" and "no." When the reading was concluded Congressman Cooper, of Wisconsin, offered a minority report, the principal feature of which deals with different railroad planks giving the interstate commerce commission power to determine rates

WOMAN DELEGATE IS SUFFRAGETTE

Mrs. Clark of Utah Has Seat in Convention.

Defines Rights of Females to Vote and Wanted Strong Plank in Party Platform.

BACKED BY HER DELEGATION

Chicago, Ill., June 18.—There is a woman delegate to the convention. She is Mrs. Lucy A. Rice Clark, of Utah, and is also one of the most enthusiastic delegates. Seated with the Utah members she was the center of attraction. Mrs. Clark originally was an alternate.

"Mrs. Clark," said one of the delegates, "C. F. Loose, of Provost, isn't coming. It's up to you and two other alternates. We're going to cast lots now."

Mrs. Clark gasped. The two other alternates were men, and as the lots were drawn Mrs. Clark sent up a little silent prayer. She admitted it afterward. It came out right, of course.

"I can't hardly realize it," she said afterward. "It means so much for the cause of woman suffrage."

"Oh, yes, I am a suffragette. We all are in Utah—men and all. Every one will tell you that it is a good thing there. Why, Mr. Sutherland, our member on the resolutions committee, is going to introduce a resolution favoring the enfranchisement of the women of the nation. The women of Illinois are going to introduce one. Well, then, Mr. Sutherland will work with them."

"Do you come in the interest of woman suffrage or do you stand on your own feet?" Mrs. Clark was asked.

"I have two feet," she retorted. "One for myself and the other firmly planted on the woman suffrage plank. What I know is good for me and the women of Utah I want my sisters all over the land to enjoy."

Mrs. Clark declares that no constitutional amendment is needed to permit woman suffrage, insisting that the constitution does not debar women by omitting to mention them.

"When the fourteenth amendment enfranchised the slaves it declared that no person should be debarred from his constitutional rights 'because of race, color or previous condition of servitude,'" argues the woman from Utah.

"Are not women members of the race? I am only surprised that men have so long failed to see the truth?"

It Comes High.

The highest amount paid for a liquor license in the state of Massachusetts, where local option prevails is $2,750. It will be paid by the owners of Ferncroft Inn to the town of Middleton, in Essex county, which "went wet" for the first time in its history at the annual town meeting in March. The fee will be considerably more than $1,000 greater than the amount paid for license in Boston. Although the town has only about six hundred inhabitants, there was some spirited bidding for the privilege to dispense alcoholic refreshments. The proprietors of the inn think the license is a good thing to have, in view of the automobile traffic and the fact that most of the larger towns and cities in that section of the country are now "dry."

Mary E. Beasley, of Philadelphia, patented, in 1884, a barrel-making machine. All barrels before that time were made by hand.

"TWO TOPERS."

A Teacher's Experience.

"My friends call me 'The Postum Preacher,' writes a Minn. school teacher, 'because I preach the gospel of Postum everywhere I go, and have been the means of liberating many 'coffee-pot' slaves.'"

"I don't care what they call me so long as I can help others to see what they lose by sticking to coffee, and can show them the way to steady nerves, clear brain and general good health by using Postum."

"While a school girl I drank coffee and had fits of trembling and went through a siege of nervous prostration, which took me three years to rally from."

"Mother coaxed me to use Postum, but I thought coffee would give me strength. So things went, and when I married I found my husband and I were both coffee toppers and I can sympathize with a drunkard who tries to leave off his cups."

"At last in sheer desperation, I bought a package of Postum, followed directions about boiling it, served it with good cream, and asked my husband how he liked the coffee."

"We each drank three cups apiece, and what a satisfied feeling it left. Our conversion lasted several years and will continue as long as we live, for it has made us new—nerves are steady, appetites good, sleep sound and refreshing."

"There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pks.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

VOTE 41 TO 4 ON
KENTUCKY CONTEST

Of Course the 41 Was Against Deboe.

Fairbanks Contestants Received Little Comfort From Members of Credentials Committee.

A FEW LIVELY ARGUMENTS.

Chicago, June 18.—The Fairbanks contestants from Kentucky were given a quick finish by the credentials committee, though the committee devoted nearly two hours to hearing the four cases. Once the speeches were over, the voting was done instantly, and the 41 to 4 which was the result in the first district in favor of the Taft men was a fair sample of the votes on the other contests.

The committee, however, in each case extended the time allowed for the statement of the case, and some of the members, notably Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, gave the Taft men some uncomfortable moments by asking leading and embarrassing questions. The proceedings were also enlivened by sharp tilts between W. O. Bradley and William Marshall Bullitt, who appeared for opposing sides in the Louisville case, and former Senator W. J. Deboe and H. J. Dehart, who spoke on the first district contest. Bradley and Bullitt clashed when Mr. Bullitt attempted to tell how Mr. Bradley had, immediately after his election as senator, come out for Fairbanks, and was apparently about to launch into an attack on the senator-elect, when Mr. Bradley interrupted: "That is not the record," he said. "And I demand that the speaker confine himself to the record."

Mr. Deboe's Argument.

Senator Fulton, who presided, sustained the point, and Mr. Bullitt was compelled to take a new tack. Under the rules adopted by the committee on credentials, each side was to have eight minutes to present its case. The first Kentucky district was called at 9:30 o'clock, and Senator Deboe appeared to speak in his own behalf. He began with a clear statement of the events leading up to the convention, and told how, as district chairman, he recognized the delegates holding credentials signed by the county chairman until Graves county was reached. In that county, he explained, that J. H. Happy, the secretary, had issued the call for the county convention after the chairman had refused to call the committee upon petition of a third of the members. Mr. Deboe contended that thereby the chairman has lost his power to act, and that he was in reality following the rules of the Republican party when he recognized the delegates holding credentials signed by Happy. Senator Deboe said if his decision was wrong the opponents had recourse by appeal to the credentials committee.

At this point time was called and Senator Reed Smoot rose and asked unanimous consent for Senator Deboe to speak eight minutes longer, the other side to have the same privilege. This was given, and Senator Deboe continued his recital. Instead of appealing to the credentials committee, he said J. C. Speight had asked to be recognized, and that the chair ruled that no one could be recognized during a rollcall, but promised to recognize Mr. Speight the first of all delegates. The senator said, in conclusion, that the fight was not a Taft-Fairbanks struggle, but solely for the party organization in the first district. He said attacks had been made on him personally, but he would take an oath that he had stated only the facts. He said one affidavit was signed by a man he had refused to endorse for a postoffice, and that the man was sore. "You know how that is, gentlemen," he said, turning to the senators on the committee.

Two Taft Men Talk.

The time of the Taft men was divided between C. H. Linn and H. J. Dehart. Mr. Linn went over the events leading to the convention, his recital differing but little from Senator Deboe's until the Graves county case was reached. He said the Republican party's rules gave the district chairman purely a ministerial duty to perform and in no case a judicial one. He said Senator Deboe had no option but to recognize the delegates with credentials signed by the county chairman.

Mr. Dehart here took up the argument and continued along the same lines. He said the state central committee, after a long hearing, had decided the point unanimously except that Mr. Deboe did not vote. He said no bolt occurred, but that the delegates simply took charge, and dramatically turning to Senator Deboe, shook his finger and said: "To protect themselves from men like you." As soon as the gavel fell the vote was put and declared carried in favor of sustaining the national committee's ruling. Four voted for the Fairbanks delegates, among them being Senator Smoot.

"Why didn't you hire that lawyer I recommended? He needs business."

"Well, his office was so cluttered up with 'Be Brief' and 'This is My Busy Day' signs that I didn't have the nerve to offer him my little thousand-dollar fee."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Says "Move On!" to Summer Goods

MOVE ON! Move On! is the stirring command which we have given to the laggards and loiterers in our summer stocks and, like the big policeman, we mean business. And the movement has certainly been double-quick thus far. The goods are so fresh and pretty and the prices so tempting that the people have moved in and out in a steady stream of pleased, bundle-bearing humanity. The Second Annual Move On Sale is undoubtedly a winner from every standpoint. The people are unanimous in their praise of the values and we are deeply appreciative of the magnificent support given us. It is but another evidence of the fact that a quarter of a century of fair dealing brings its own reward in public confidence—and cash.

Here are a few of the money-saving items. They'll move on with a rush.

Such an undertaking is in conformity with the aim pursued by the Society of the White Cross, which was formed to group all the efforts being made to fight infectious diseases, epidemics, alcoholism, opium in all countries, in view of fighting tuberculosis, mania and poisoning through adulteration. The congress initiated by that society is the first of its kind; it is regarded as made necessary by the increasing progress of fraudulent alimentary products and pharmaceutical articles.

ROOSEVELT HAS NO FAVORITE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

Secretary Loeb Denies President is Interested in any Particular Candidate.

Cummins or Fairbanks Will Probably be Nominee.

THE TEXT OF LOEB'S MESSAGE

Chicago, June 18.—Lafayette Young, delegate at large from Iowa, received a telegram from Secretary Loeb which stated that President Roosevelt had not expressed a desire to see Cummins' name on the ticket or that of any other particular person. Loeb's telegram was in response to a telegram from Young in which the latter asked for an explanation of the president's attitude on the vice-presidential nomination. Following is the text of Loeb's message:

"The president has not expressed any opinion for or against any candidate for the vice-presidency, and will no more express an opinion against Governor Cummins than he would against Senator Dolliver."

Fairbanks or Cummins
Young, who has heretofore been classed among the opponents of Cummins, said that he would do nothing to prevent the latter's nomination.

Developments of the day did not materially alter the vice-presidential situation, and the opinion is the same as it was, that the nomination will go either to Fairbanks or Cummins.

Fairbanks Won't Accept.
A promulgation of the letter from Vice President Fairbanks reiterating his "irrevocable determination" not to again be a candidate for the office he now holds, was the most important development of the day in connection with the vice-presidential nomination.

Despite this letter there were as many prophecies that the vice president would in the end be called upon to succeed himself.

It was confidently asserted that he would not decline the unanimous nomination. His close friends, however, openly declare that the letter must be accepted as final and definite in removing him from consideration for second place.

There were rumors of further effort to get the New York delegation together behind the candidacy of Sherman, and it was reported that State Chairman Woodruff might, after all, present Sherman's name to the convention. There is no formal decision on the matter, however. Feeling is growing that Fairbanks' position might prove so truly irrevocable that not even unanimous nomination could dislodge him. This consideration materially encouraged the Cummins talk, as well as that of various other candidates.

Stumbled and Fell Against Circular Saw.

ACCIDENT AT BASKET FACTORY

Stumbling over an obstruction, Thomas Adams, of Fifth and Jackson streets, fell against a circular saw in the wood-working department of the Lack Singletree company on South Third street this morning at 7:15 o'clock, and had his left thigh ripped open to the bone for eight inches.

Fellow employees picked Jackson up and attended him as best they could until a physician arrived. He lost blood freely from the ragged wound, but having unforeseen complications, he should recover the use of his leg. Adams has been unfortunate in the way of accidents, as several years ago he had his back bone fractured and though he has never fully recovered from that injury, he was at work. He was carried to his home this morning, where his injury was dressed.

Riveted Finger.
Riveting her finger instead of a fruit basket she was making at the Paducah Box and Basket company, Fourteenth and Caldwell streets, Alma Moore, a 13-year-old employee was severely injured this morning at 6 o'clock. Unwittingly she allowed her index finger on the right hand to get under the riveting machine, and a vice was driven through the nail and riveted in the same manner a fruit basket is bound together. It was a most painful operation to remove the wire from the nail, which is the tenderest part of the hand. Miss Moore lives at Eleventh and Norton streets.

Superintendent Bell Here.
R. W. Bell, assistant superintendent of machinery of the Illinois Central, arrived in the city this morning from the south. Mr. Bell is on his regular inspection trip. He came in on private No. 6 and will be in the city all day.

CORNER STONE CEREMONIES FOR NEW CHURCH

Will be Held July 8 With Masonic Fraternities in Charge.

Grand Master of Kentucky Invited to Attend.

BROADWAY CHURCH'S WORK

Masonic fraternities in this city will have charge of the ceremonies of laying the corner stone for the new Fountain Avenue Methodist church at Fountain avenue and Monroe streets, on July 8. The Rev. G. W. Banks, pastor of the Trimble Street church, and the congregation have invited the Paducah lodges to participate and the invitation has been forwarded to Grand Master H. P. Barrett, of Henderson, who is expected to attend. If he cannot be present his proxy will be given a Paducah member.

Tentative plans now made, set the hour of 7:30 o'clock in the evening for laying the corner stone. Wednesday, July 8. An appropriate program will be arranged for the occasion, to include special music and addresses. Paducah Masons will constitute themselves the grand lodge of Kentucky for the event.

Church Conference.
Progress in every department of the Broadway Methodist church was shown in the reports made last evening at the first church conference for the year. Dr. G. T. Sullivan, the pastor, has begun these church conferences and expects all phases of the work to be stimulated by an interchange of ideas.

Speaking for the entire church, Dr. Sullivan said that 94 additions have been made in the first six months of the church year ending May 16. He confidently expects that $5,000 will be raised on the church debt this year, in addition to the regular finances of the church.

Superintendent John D. Smith, of the Sunday school, reported a cash-balance on hand after liberal contribution to various causes. The enrollment and attendance are increasing, both in the Sunday school and primary department. Mr. L. B. Ogilvie gave the treasurer's report for the board of stewards, which showed that the finances of the church are better in hand for this time of the year than usual. The yearly expenses of the church are $6,000.

Reports were read from the Epworth League and the Junior League. The latter started with a membership of 7 and has just suspended for the summer with an enrollment of 90. Charles Blackard is president and Miss Blanche Mooney is director of the Junior League. Brief reports also were made from the Woman's Foreign Missionary society and the Home Mission society. Mrs. Frank Dunn giving the former and Mrs. Fanny Johnson the latter report.

The Ramsey society has in addition to paying for the organ, undertaken to pay for the church decorations. They have paid over half of a total obligation of $1,000 for church improvements. There are 80 members in the society. Mrs. Harry Gleaves reported from the Junior War den Missionary society and Mr. S. H.

Winstead, who is a member of the special committee on floating debt, showed in his report that $1,200 of the pledges have been collected.

Mr. C. B. Hatfield was elected conference secretary for the remainder of the year. Dr. J. W. Blackard, presiding elder, congratulated the church on its excellent condition.

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND DEAD IN SHANTYBOAT

The body of an unknown white man about 40 years old, was found lying in his boat in "Duck's Nest" yesterday afternoon by shantyboaters. Coroner Frank Eaker was called but the body could not be identified. A jury was empaneled and a verdict of death from unknown causes was returned.

The man drifted into the Tennessee river last week and took up his abode at the nest. Besides his rickety boat he had a skiff, and this was stolen from him. The man refused to leave his boat, and when aid was offered him refused. He had little to eat, and when provisions were proffered him, he remonstrated and said he wanted to be left alone. From the best evidence that was secured, it is believed the man was crazy. He had not been dead but a few hours when he was discovered. The body was buried in the potters' field.

PROGRESS.
 One man was killed on a certain great railroad system a few weeks ago; because, while a dispatcher was changing by hand the lantern signals, one train crashed into another. It was then learned that since the federal law, limiting hours of work, went into effect the number of telegraphers has been reduced and recently the block system has been discontinued. The federal law was enacted to prevent the employment of men for so long a continuous period that they became sleepy, jeopardizing the human lives entrusted to their care. The answer to it was a reduction of force that already has cost one life. It was an impudent answer; but it will be rebuked. We all have to travel and none of us wishes to be killed. All of us live in cities or near railroad lines, and none of us wishes to be slaughtered at a grade crossing. Yet, as careful people as we have met death in that way; and who knows the name of the next victim? We might find more enthusiasm for our response to the sentiment that lives must be sacrificed to progress; if we were certain whose lives were to be sacrificed and if all this is really progress. We have been reared to the belief that human life is the most estimable thing in the world, and progress only is marked by those things which tend to prolong and dignify its existence.

THE MAN.
 Rounded periods were lacking in the almost statistical presentation by Senator Burrows of the Republican party's bid for popular support to call attention to an epoch in American history. Had he given beyond the recital of solid facts, his speech would have been interminably long. In measured terms he reviewed the past in its relation to the immediate future, and his keynote put the country on notice that the Republican campaign will be a simple plea for indorsement of its policies and a promise of persistence.

And that review is confined in great measure to the compass of eight years, the achievements of one man—or, to give credit to those statesmen with whom he so astutely surrounded himself, one administration. Under this man Roosevelt, the full power and resources of the term executive, as applied to our American form of government, have been tested. The possibilities of the department for good have been fully demonstrated by the president and cabinet, its possibilities for evil have been abundantly perceived by congressmen and the sages of the sanctuary. We have nothing left to fear; the executive is only powerful to cope with the popular assembly, when public opinion co-operates to force congress into acquiescence.

Under Roosevelt the talents of the department of state have been cultivated into a useful factor in extending and making permanent American foreign trade. The war department has by virtue of the remarkably versatile statesman at its head taken rank with first cabinet office and for several years has occupied the most conspicuous and trying position before the world by reason of its responsibility for our colonial policy, in which there was no precedent to guide us.

The treasury department ceased to be a mere instrument for the relief of speculators in crop moving times and became the leader in a movement to reform the currency system of the nation.

The postoffice department from a patronage dispensing bureau is becoming the model business institution of the age. The interior department, popularly regarded as government agency for the distribution of largess to whomsoever possessed the acumen to find what he wanted and the political pull to get it, has become an economic instrument for the protection of the public domain from plunder. The department of agriculture in its pure food and drug regulations is doing for the people what the interior department is doing for their wealth. The department of justice is busy with the enemies of the republic. The department of commerce and labor is grinding out statistics and information on which commercial interests of the country have come to rely with as much dependence as they do on the weather reports. Even the navy portfolio has ceased to be a sinecure and the great fleet is on a mission that is shaping world policies and making good our own.

It is Roosevelt's initiative, and yet, in as much as he is a part of this administration, Secretary Taft may well ask the indorsement of popular suffrage. How much of that credit is due him he will have four months in which to show. This campaign is not going to be an oratorical combat. Taft will undertake to produce facts—a record of achievement, of policies, with which he is identified and which are continuous, demanding the administration of one, whose understanding and sympathy is identical with the one that shaped them.

It is no shame to the Republican party that it must call attention to the achievements of one man and his cabinet; for after all what boots it whether the work be done in the name of Democracy or the Republican party? It is her ability to produce the man the crisis demands, that has kept the Republican party in power these many changing years; and if ever this fecund mistress of our destiny becomes sterile with years and unresponsive to the Times' desires, she will yield her prestige to a younger jade, still honored for her sons' sakes, a creature of sidecombs and spateurs, remembering birthdays and recalling with recurrent bitterness what some one, who had died a hundred years before, might have done in such a crisis.

The man, the hour and his policies—these are the issues. Has Roosevelt done right? Has Taft been tried? Is he the man to prosecute those policies?
 Never mind his politics.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ever, that the rules of procedure in federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute and no injunction or temporary restraining order be issued without notice except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy trial thereafter should be granted.

Race Problem.
 The negro plank demands justice for all regardless of color, upholding the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution. Favors conservation of natural resources, demands an army and navy equal to the defense and protection of American interests abroad and the extension of foreign commerce. Favors the ratification of the Hague conference treaties, the revival of the merchant marine by legislation and establishment of a bureau of mining. Advocates the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as states and praises the administration in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

In conclusion the platform contrasts the records of the Democratic and Republican parties and declares that while the trend of Democracy is toward socialism the trend of Republicanism is toward a wise and conservative individualism. The support of all voters is asked on the declaration of principles.

News of Theatres

There are only a few more chances left to witness the performance of the Hutton-Bailey Stock company at Wallace park Casino, as that company gives their last performance on Friday night. It is customary to close on Saturday night, but the company has been released in order that they can get to Terre Haute for their opening performance, which is Sunday matinee. This company has made many friends here and in spite of the bad weather they have had good crowds. Last night's performance was attended by much the largest crowd of the season and was highly enjoyed. Tonight "The Belle of Kentucky" will be presented.

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

ILLUSTRATED BY A. WEIL

The president looked at him reprovingly, but said nothing. The others gave him silent sympathy, knowing that in case of disastrous war he would be the one to stand in the limelight and defend himself for not working miracles unaided. The gratitude of kings was no more open to sarcasm than the gratitude of republics.

"The report says," continued the secretary, gloomily, "that war may be anticipated in six months at the furthest, and that our only safeguard is to bring our navy up to a formidable force before that time. Well, we can't do it! With all the facilities at our command we can't build ships in a night, nor drill men to man them in a day. We shout about our resources, and we have them; but it takes time to utilize them."

His outspoken pessimism loosened his hearers' tongues; but the most optimistic could find nothing encouraging to say. It was obvious that the country in any event would be unprepared. They were discussing emergency plans, when the president's secretary appeared in the doorway.

They turned to him, wondering what could claim the chief executive's attention at that time of the night. The secretary walked over to the president and addressed him in a low tone. They caught scraps of the conversation.

"Says he wants to see me tonight."

"Says and I didn't like to refuse a man of his prominence, or one who is so closely your friend."

"Not much! Just laughed, and said he wanted to see you personally."

"Well, go tell him I would be glad to see him ordinarily; but that I am in a conference of great importance with friends. Ask him to say what hour he prefers to see me to-morrow."

The secretary bowed and left the room, and the conversation was resumed. It continued only a moment before he again appeared, and the president turned toward him.

"Dr. Roberts seems a little annoyed," the secretary apologized, "and insisted on my coming back to tell you that he wanted to see you now."

The president and others in the room laughed tolerantly, knowing the inventor's peculiarities.

"What else did he say?" the president asked.

"Said he'd be hanged if he'd go until he saw you." The laughter in the room increased. "Said he had found something that would enable the government to whip the Japanese; had been reading reports showing there was no time to waste, and wanted to tell you about it at once."

The merriment subsided as quickly as it had been provoked, and the hilarious ones, grown grave, looked at each other in astonishment and wonder. Here at the very moment of distress was a man who had done more toward strengthening the nation's agents of offense and defense than any other individual, confidently asserting that he could show them the way out of their difficulties. The president ordered that the caller be conducted to the room at once.

Had it been any less a personage than the famous inventor they would have paid small heed to the promise of hope; had they been informed in less troublous times that such an invention was pending, they would have looked upon it with great interest and curiosity; but now, when all avenues of escape seemed closed, when the eagle's perch was rocking beneath its talons and it was threatened by merciless foes, they stared at each other in amazed silence like men who had been relieved.

It was in the midst of this stillness that the inventor entered the room and stood bewildered for a moment, peering from beneath the tath of his brows at one and another. Then, satisfied that his visit was opportune and that none was present whom he did not know, he gave them individual greetings as his acquaintanceship warranted.

"You were not expecting me," he addressed the president; "but it appears to me that there is no one here who should not know what I have to say, and who is not directly interested in what I have to show. I am glad you are all here, gentlemen," he concluded, turning to the others. And then, following the example of the president, he seated himself, and the others did likewise. They were struck with a suspense which he did not share. "Informal, isn't it?" he asked the president, and when assured that such was the case he calmly drew a handkerchief from his pocket and swept it across the dome of his forehead.

All were waiting for him to speak; but, with exasperating slowness, and without asking permission from the president, he thrust a hand into the roomy folds of his sack coat and produced a bundle of long stogies, one of which he carefully withdrew and examined with great care. He thrust it into his mouth and revolved it, apparently for the purpose of tightening a loose wrapper. He turned to the chief executive. There was an air of expectancy in the room and a leaning forward, that no word of the great secret might be lost. They caught all he said.

"Got a match, Mr. President?" he asked with the utmost nonchalance.

They dropped back into their seats, some with exasperation and others smiling. The president gravely supplied his want, and then, as the evil odor of the weed was wafted round the room, he sat back in his chair, with the tips of his fingers touching each other. The secretary of war was beginning to fidget with impatience.

Roberts puffed three or four times, fixed his eyes on a cornice as if he was the sole occupant of the room, then calmly reached into a pocket and drew out a parcel which he laid on the president's desk. While every eye was fixed upon him he tilted the stogie in his mouth to an angle where the smoke would not interfere with his operations, and began unwrapping the package, throwing the newspapers on the floor at his feet. Then came a fold of silk, and last of all a sheet of tissue paper, whose crackling crispness sounded startlingly loud in the stillness of the room.

Goes to Jail.
 Ed Scott is again in jail. After getting off with a fine of $15 and costs in Magistrate J. J. Bleich's court for shooting up the house of Mrs. Martha Holeman in Cannan, he was released upon the promise of paying his fine. A week has passed and the officers have not seen their fees, or fine, and so Constable A. C. Shelton went out after Scott. He failed to come across with the coin and he was placed in the county jail. It is believed that Scott will pay his fine today and be released.

Fine Cigars in a Fine Case

It is an old saying that "clothes do not make the man," but when it comes to cigars, and the facilities for storing them and keeping them in condition, the reverse is true. You can take the best cigar in the world and, unless it is kept just moist enough, the bouquet is entirely lost.

We have just installed the finest and largest cigar case and humidor in West Kentucky. The growth of our cigar business and the immense stock which we carry made it necessary. More than ever, ours is

CITY SOLICITOR RECOMMENDS CONTRACTOR'S RELEASE

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., will recommend to the board of public works that Contractor T. J. Sale be released from his bid on the Water street improvement, and that his guarantee check for $1750 be restored to him.

Had Mr. Sale known and the attitude of the Illinois Central railroad toward the contract, Mr. Campbell thinks it would be just to forfeit the guarantee check, and when new bids are called for on the improvement, if the board follows Mr. Campbell's recommendation, and if no agreement between the city and the railroad is reached in the meantime, it will be done with the understanding among the contractors that their guarantee checks will certainly be forfeited if they, like Mr. Sale, refuse to sign.

City Solicitor Campbell believes the ordinance is valid and that the cost could be collected from the railroad, but as there will be only a few hundred dollars profit in the contract, few contractors would desire it if a lawsuit awaited its completion. Counsel fees and court costs would eat through the profits.

Attorney D. H. Hughes of counsel for the subsidiary company of the railroad, that owns the First street property abutting the improvement, said this morning that the city might be liable for half the cost of the improvement, as the wharf, which is a revenue producing and taxpaying city property, also abutted the improvement. He was of the opinion that any contractor who undertook the work would meet with legal opposition in collecting his claim.

Mayor Smith recommended in his annual message the improvement of the river front, and is not disposed to be bluffed out of his position. The ordinance must be repealed before any compromise improvement could be agreed upon. Meanwhile the board of public works will try to execute the ordinance.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The Great Restorative Non-Alcoholic Tonic

of the day, made entirely of native medicinal roots and without a drop of alcohol in its composition.

There are no secrets—all its ingredients being printed on the bottle-wrappers.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only builds up the strength of the feeble, debilitated, languid, nervous and easily fatigued, whether young or aged, but it enriches and purifies the blood, thus making the improvement lasting.

It corrects and overcomes indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, torpid liver, chronic diarrhoea and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Bronchial, throat and laryngeal affections, attended with hoarseness, persistent cough, and all manner of catarrhal affections are cured by the "Golden Medical Discovery."

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the nasal passages out freely with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as a constitutional treatment. Old obstinate cases of catarrh yield to this thorough course of treatment.

Through enriching and purifying the blood, the "Discovery" cures scrofulous affections, also blotches, pimples, eruptions, and other ugly affections of the skin. Old, open, running sores, or ulcers, are healed by taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" internally and applying Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve as a local dressing. The Salve can be had of druggists, or will be sent by return mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps. Address Doctor Pierce as below for it.

In short "Golden Medical Discovery" regulates, purifies and invigorates the whole system and thus cures a very large range of diseases. The reason why it cures such a varied list of diseases is made clear in a little booklet of extracts from the leading medical authorities, compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and which he will be pleased to send post-paid and entirely free to any who send him their names and addresses.

You can't afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equalled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps (to cover cost of mailing) for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

STRICTLY A MUGWUMP.

Illinois German High in Councils of Both Parties.

Chicago, June 18.—Surely no delegate to the Republican national convention has been placed in such a unique position as that occupied by an Illinoisan who has been selected as an assistant sergeant-at-arms at the Denver convention and elected vice-president of a Republican club.

The name of this individual who holds office in both Democratic and Republican parties is John Schramm, an alderman in the city of Elgin. He cause of his activity in the last Democratic state convention he was named for the place in the Democratic national committee at Denver. Soon after that the German Republicans of the city held a meeting. Alderman Schramm is such a prominent German and so proud of his nationality that the other German citizens could not find it in their hearts to leave him out. He was invited to the meeting and amid great enthusiasm elected vice-president of the organization.

How much more a man enjoys doing a thing he doesn't have to do.

S.S.S. FOR BAD BLOOD

When bad blood is caused from an infection of the circulation by the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, it usually shows in the form of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots on the body, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. These general symptoms, affecting all parts of the body, show how deeply poisoned the blood becomes, and emphasizes the dangerous character of the trouble. If allowed to remain in the system the disease will finally wreck the health and break down the strongest constitution. No medicine can cure Contagious Blood Poison which does not rid the circulation of every particle of the virus. S. S. S. is the one real and certain cure; it goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, and by removing every trace of the poison, and adding rich, healthful qualities to the blood, forever cures this powerful disorder. S. S. S. is the most reliable of all blood purifiers, and its concentrated ingredients of healthful vegetable extracts and juices especially adapt it to curing this insidious trouble. Write for our home treatment book, which is a valuable aid in the treatment of the different stages of the disease, and ask for any special medical advice you wish. No charge for either.

GREAT THINGS ARE ASSURED PADUCAH

Former Paducahan Writes Enthusiastically of Town.

Kentuckians in Los Angeles Celebrate Anniversary of State's Admission to Union.

AN INTERESTING LETTER

Paducah has no more ardent admirer or enthusiastic believer in its destinies than David W. Coons, formerly secretary of the Commercial club. Mr. Coons is now engaged in business in Los Angeles, but his heart is still in Kentucky, as is evidenced by several communications. The Sun has received from him lately. Following is a letter received a few days ago:

My Dear Sir: I am glad to see the interest that is being taken in possible new railroad connections for Paducah. I sincerely trust it will not be many months before the Big Four and Burlington will be operating into Paducah over their own rails. My land! wouldn't that be great for the town! It will come, I feel confident, as I have often told you. You have had some hard knocks, but this would make you all forget the wrecks and failures by the wayside. I sincerely trust that every person interested in Paducah's future will encourage the efforts being made to secure greater transportation facilities, which will certainly insure the future growth of the city, and it is of such vital importance to your future commercial importance that it seems to me right now, at this time, one great combined effort ought to be made, and every possible influence ought to be brought to bear to insure the coming in of these lines, which will make Paducah truly one of the best towns on the map. You have been a little slow in getting together on some of these great things that mean so much to the city, but the great necessity for united effort and railroad connections must certainly be apparent to all your citizens now, in a way that it would be easy to bring every individual to the front for these blessings that would mean so much to the future greatness of Paducah. I know of nothing that would give me more pleasure than to hear that Paducah was not going to get, but actually had the Burlington, Big Four and Frisco operating into the business center of the city. Not out in the woods, but even out a distance would be better than not to come at all. We have here in Los Angeles a very strong Kentucky society, and yesterday we had a picnic at East Lake park, where I met several hundred Kentuckians. I say Kentuckians, for in mingling with them I found while some of them had been out in the golden west 20 years, they still retain all the characteristics of the true Kentuckian (once in Kentucky always a Kentuckian), an open-hearted, generous, hospitable people, quick to defend the fair name of their natal state, and just as earnest in condemning all that which detracts from it, such as the recent depredations of the so-called "night riders." These lawless acts have certainly done the state and the law-abiding citizens great damage, and one does not have to look far in this part of the country to find many opportunities to defend his state, if he is from Kentucky. Let us hope the end has been reached in all that reflects on the proud name of Kentucky. Thinking it might interest many of your readers I append herewith a partial list of those former Kentuckians who attended the picnic, which was to celebrate the 116th anniversary of Kentucky statehood, with their former address in Kentucky:

W. A. Mullens, Lancaster, Ky., president Kentucky society; Eugene Cruik, Danville, secretary; Mrs. S. F. Mays, Taylor county; Mrs. Fannie Myrick, Cynthia; Mrs. Nancy E. Nevin, Logan county; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Williams, Logan county; Miss Fanny Hendrick Warner, Russellville, Logan county; Mrs. Evelyn Pennyacker, Louisville; Mrs. Ella Swickert, Louisville; Mr. Jesse Van Winkle, Monticello. TAFTS LETTER STIRS UP THE NATION

Panama's Want No Interference at Elections.

American Officials Will Keep Watch in Principal Cities During Municipal Elections.

THE TEST COMES ON JUNE 28.

Panama, June 18.—The publication of the letter which the American secretary of war, W. H. Taft, delivered to President Amador at the time of his visit to the isthmus and in which the intention of the United States government to intervene in case of fraud or violence is plainly set forth has caused a very considerable sensation here, particularly among the supporters of Senator Arias, the secretary of state, one of the candidates for the presidency, concerning whom Secretary Taft's letter makes special reference.

The American secretary's communication had been carefully guarded by President Amador since the date of its receipt by him, it being stated that not even all the members of his cabinet were cognizant of its contents, and the plain statement made in the letter now published have made a deep impression.

The active participation of the United States in the coming elections is the chief subject of discussion among the Panamanians, as it is announced that American commissioners, backed by sufficient force will be present at the polls, so that the legal voters may have an opportunity to elect a president without danger from fraudulent methods.

Representatives of the United States also will keep watch in the principal cities during the municipal elections, which take place on Sunday June 28. Intense excitement prevails in official circles at the present time.

The collector of customs at Colon, Jose Echegaray, who has been taking an active part in the campaign, today issued a pamphlet, which was extensively distributed, urging the nation to forget political differences and appealing to the patriotism of the people to avoid the fatal results of American intervention. He instances the situation in Cuba and suggests a third candidate as a solution of the present state of affairs.

STEEPLEJACKS

Complete Work of Painting Broadway Methodist Church Spire.

Painting the top of the steeple of the Broadway Methodist church is a job that does not appeal to every man, but W. F. Perry, John Ausenbaugh and Frank Brown, three painters, do not regard it as anything out of the ordinary. The spire is 140 feet from the pavement, and is reached by long ladders placed along side of it.

The painters have erected scaffolding between the steeple and the main roof and then placed the three long ladders in position. While two men stand on the ladder and wield the brush, one of the painters swings around the spire on a steel strap, and paints the sides. The job was completed today, and the pedestrians on Broadway breathed with relief when they saw the painters come down from their high position.

The men were painting Monday when the high wind came up, and seeing the danger, the painters came down. Just as the last man reached the last round, the wind caught the ladders and blew them to the ground.

Board of Works Acts on Mayors Suggestions.

Street Force Ordered Reduced to Hold Expenses Within Appropriation for Year.

SPECIAL MEETING FOR FRIDAY.

Mayor James P. Smith is in earnest in his determination to hold the various municipal departments within their appropriations for the year, and to do this, will, if necessary, slash forces right and left whenever a deficit becomes inevitable. The board of public works is in accord with Mayor Smith in this policy, and in its meeting yesterday, ordered Street Inspector J. J. Reed to begin next week to reduce his force. In the other departments under the board, economy will be practiced to bring the city through this year without a deficit.

Summary methods were employed by the board yesterday afternoon in dealing with property owners who do not comply with the requests of the city engineer. Sam Liebel was warranted for a refusal to move an out-house back from the pavement line on Faxon avenue. Other property owners who are dilatory in their compliance with city orders will be as summarily treated.

Because of the absence of Contractor T. J. Sale, who was awarded the contract to improve Water street, and who got "cold feet" about signing the contract from a fear that he would have to sue the Illinois Central railroad for his money, a special meeting for Friday afternoon was called, when the question will be settled. City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., will be present also. The humor of the board yesterday, was to forfeit the $100 check Mr. Sale deposited with them for good faith, if he does not sign and execute the contract.

July 1 the city licenses become due, and the markets stall rents will be renewed. The board will follow its accustomed procedure and give present renters first choice on their stalls. Any applications will be considered in the meeting July 7. Usually the board has a few quarrels to settle over the market stalls, but none has appeared at this time.

Engines need exercise to keep in good trim, according to Superintendent Keeler, of the municipal lighting plant, so the board ordered him to run the steam street roller for two days to limber it up.

Falling in with Fire Chief James Wood's lead, the city street department will cultivate 20 acres of land, owned by the city on north Sixth street near the Dogwood factory. Corn will be planted and they expect to raise $250 worth.

City Engineer L. A. Washington, answering by Mr. G. W. Katterjohn that grades are not given him fast enough on Tennessee street to keep his men busy, said that he was rushing his department's work as fast as he can. Mr. Washington recommended that 100 feet of sewer pipe be laid by the city under a lot being filled in by John Iseman on South Fourth street, to form a natural drain for water in that block.

Reports from the street department sewer inspector, street lighting department and city engineer were received and accepted. Henry Enders made a written application for a municipal position, but no vacancies exist now. President Rudy and Secretary Kolb were present yesterday.

Further business for the special meeting Friday afternoon will be the consideration of the ordinances for the improvement of Tenth street from Broadway to Kentucky avenue, with brick and concrete sidewalks. If the aldermen tonight confirm the action of the council in passing the ordinances, S. R. Gholson, who was awarded the contract to supply the city with gravel for next year at 75 cents a yard, will be required to sign the contract or new bids will be ordered.

Harvard's Gift to Cambridge

The city of Cambridge has received a new combination chemical and hose wagon and a team of horses, the whole outfit valued at $3,500, from Harvard College. The new fire wagon will be placed in the house of Emig No. 7, and will go into commission this week.

This gift was offered the city some time ago, but was not at first accepted, some citizens claiming that in this way the college was seeking to put a stop to the agitation in regard to college taxation. It is supposed, however, that the institution, recognizing the fact that fires occasionally occur in college buildings, deems it only fair that it should take some part in maintaining the city's fire apparatus.—Boston Transcript.

When you need something to take take it promptly for the stomach, but take something you know is reliable—something like Kodol. For Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Kodol is pleasant to take; it is reliable and is guaranteed to give relief. It is sold by all druggists.

They will be arrested at once as many of them are attending court as witnesses for the defense.

Yesterday's Session.
All evidence in the trial of Burnett Phelps, charged with participating in the raid on Birmingham, was completed yesterday afternoon at 4:50 o'clock, and arguments began. Today Hon. Charles K. Wheeler and Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett will conclude the arguments, and the case will be given to the jury. Judge Reed has called the jury together for the trial of Sam Collins for 10 o'clock.

Attack Bliek's Testimony.

The evidence of the defense took a surprising turn when the attorneys for the defense introduced testimony that Otis Bliek, the confessed night rider, under excitement and fear could not tell the truth. W. M. Albee, father of the boy, was introduced and said at the age of twelve his son had a sun stroke, and since then his mind had wandered at times. He refused to say that his son was of unsound mind, but alleged that his son's mind was affected so that he was given to exaggerate, and at times not tell the truth.

On cross examination he admitted not having his son examined by a physician or having him treated for the sun stroke. Through steady questioning, Mr. Lovett had Bliek admit that in the doorway of the court house he told his son he could get $1,000 by changing his statement, and be cleared besides. No expert testimony was introduced as to his present condition, or no mention was made of "brain storms." J. C. McClode, Charles E. Smith, J. J. Hendricks and Elijah Allison testified that Bliek did not tell the truth, but when the defense sought to introduce more witnesses Judge Reed held them to four.

Sensational Incident.

While Hon. W. A. Berry was speaking many witnesses and some of the defendants crowded close to the railing near the jury, and at one instance in the speech applauded the speaker. Mr. Lovett called for the court and said: "Judge, I wish you would stop these night riders from applauding the speaker." Judge Reed quickly stopped the outbreak, and admonished the audience that another outbreak of applause would mean a trip to jail. The utterance of Mr. Lovett caused excitement among the witnesses, and it was the sole topic of discussion after the adjournment of court. W. M. Weeder, for the commonwealth, spoke last night, while court began this morning at 8 o'clock in order to finish the case by noon.

More Alibis.

When called Alfred Chaudet, one of the defendants said he was at home on the night of the raid, and his statement beyond this was not asked. Amos Stringer said that Otis Bliek was not given an oath of any kind in his barber shop, and denied being in the raid.

With a number of witnesses from "between the rivers," the defense introduced testimony to the effect that Dr. Champion was at home on the afternoon before the raid, contradicting evidence of the commonwealth that he was in Birmingham on the afternoon before the raid. With this the defense rested.

On rebuttal Commonwealth's Attorney Lovett introduced Otis Bliek who said he did not have a sun stroke when 12 years old and corroborated the story of his father that he was offered a reward of $1,000 to change his story, and that he would be freed. An effort of the commonwealth to impeach Dr. Champion failed.

Court's Instructions.

Judge Reed's instructions were brief, and along the usual line. If a conspiracy had been formed in their belief they would return a verdict for a term in the penitentiary from one to 15 years.

Hon. W. A. Berry's speech yesterday afternoon was comprehensive, while W. M. Weeder, who spoke last night for the commonwealth, reviewed the evidence for the prosecution. Jack E. Fisher spoke this morning, and he was followed by Hon. Charles K. Wheeler, who made a splendid speech for the defense. Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett closed the arguments with a masterful appeal to the jury to do its duty, held before them in splendid style the weakness of the defense. His arraignment of night riders was one of the strongest utterances on the subject that has been spoken and the closing of the speech was devoted to an appeal to the jury to convict the accused that the fair name of Marshall county might be vindicated.

CONFERENCE OF FOUR SUBDIVISIONS

Held by International Sunday School Institute.

Matters of Interest to Workers Were Discussed in Four Churches.

THE CONVENTION PRELIMINARY

Louisville, Ky., June 18.—"If the church, and more especially the Sunday school, is not a matrimonial agency, will any of you kindly tell me what it is? And will you tell me why it should not be?"

These words were spoken with flying enthusiasm by the Rev. L. P. Leavell, field secretary of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist convention, electrified an audience that filled the auditorium of the Warren Memorial Presbyterian church yesterday at the adult conference of the Sunday school institute preliminary to the international Sunday school convention, which begins today at the First Regiment Armory. "I am tired of all this prying talk about the inappropriateness of making the church and Sunday school a meeting place for boys and girls and young men and young women. That is exactly what it should be, a place where clean minded, clean living young men can meet good, sweet girls and fulfill the destiny of happy substantial home life for which they are intended. It is the province and the duty of the church to provide this and the influence for good it has is incalculable."

The Rev. Mr. Leavell believes in using the language in its shirt sleeves. "We organized an interclass social affair in our church," he said, "and we went outside and told all the decent young men we could find, 'get into your glad rags and bring your best girl,' and you ought to have seen them come! And they have kept coming. How many of you know about the young man who has seen an attractive girl and wanted to meet her, and who, by her influence, might have been saved from the evils that loneliness brings on, but he has and never can have an opportunity to meet that girl. The Sunday school must give it to him."

The discussion that followed was an almost unanimous endorsement of the ideas with which the Rev. Mr. Leavell had startled his audience, and he was heartily applauded. In the woman's section, where E. K. Mohr, of Grand Rapids, Mich., presided, which met at the same time in the Sunday school room of the church, Frank L. Wood, teacher of the Wesleyan Bible class, of Chicago, Ill., advanced nearly the same ideas in different words under the subject of the "Social Life of the Adult Class."

Probably the biggest proposition to come before the convention for adoption or rejection next week are the resolutions of the so-called "Boston conference" of the lesson committee, the lesson editors and the executive committee, representing 10,000,000 members and eleven of the great religious denominations, who assembled in Boston January 1-2 this year. This committee of educational experts unanimously adopted the following:

First—That the system of a general lesson for the whole school, which has been in successful use for thirty-five years, is still the most practicable and effective system for the great majority of the Sunday schools of North America. Because of its past accomplishments, its present usefulness, and its future possibilities, we recommend its continuance and its fullest development.

Second—That the need of a graded system of lessons is expressed by so many Sunday schools and workers that it should be adequately met by the International Sunday School association, and that the lesson committee should be instructed by the next international convention, to be held at Louisville, Ky., June 19-23, 1908, to continue the preparation of a thoroughly graded course covering the entire range of the Sunday school.

For twelve years there has been a friendly struggle on this point. On all these occasions the old system of a general lesson for the entire school has retained its hold. So strong, however, has the sentiment for graded lessons become, especially in the

"How many bonus votes do we get this week?"

About forty candidates a day ask the above question at the Sun office. They haven't been told anything for the contest man had not decided that question, been too busy taking in money and issuing regular votes.

But here's the answer now:

Two thousand bonus votes will be given with every $25 a candidate turns in altogether this week. That doesn't mean that you get a bonus on what you turn in during the remainder of the week. Anything and everything you have turned in heretofore this week will be counted on the bonus offer.

Another thing: Next week the bonus will be smaller than this. It will then be a thousand bonus for every $25. So you see it behooves you to get that money in now instead of later and get it in in chunks of $25.

Chas. Denker Leads.

For the first time during the whole contest Mr. Chas. Denker comes to the front and proves that a goodly number of friends are supporting him. He heads the whole list in today's publication of votes, and it is a fine big juicy score opposite his name—nearly 130,000 lacks less than two hundred of that figure.

Miss Mern Nichols is just a little over a thousand behind and is in turn followed by Mr. Joe Desberger, Mr. A. W. Stewman, Miss Ella Hill, Miss Lura Street and Mr. J. H. Dugger.

Of the six top people three are ladies and three are gentlemen.

Who Are Eligible?

Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.

The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue till July 4, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.

Districts.

The territory covered by The Sun has been divided for the purposes of this contest into three districts, as follows:

District 1 comprises all of the city of Paducah north of Broadway, including the north side of Broadway.

District 2 comprises all of the city of Paducah south of Broadway, including the south side of Broadway.

District 3 comprises all of the territory served by The Sun outside the limits of the city of Paducah.

More Than $2,000 in Prizes.

Following is a description of the magnificent list of prizes offered for the winners in this contest together with the arrangement governing their distribution.

The candidate securing the highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The First Grand Prize, a $700 double building lot in Gregory Heights, Paducah's prettiest suburb.

The candidate securing the second highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The Second Grand Prize, a $400.00 two-carat, blue-white diamond, on display at Jo Wolf's jewelry store, 327 Broadway.

After the judges of the finish of the contest have awarded the Grand Prizes, the names of the two winners will be stricken from the list of contestants and the nine district prizes will be awarded as follows:

The three persons who lead their respective districts will be awarded a $200 piano, on display at W. T. Miller & Bros., 520 Broadway, a $150 suit of furniture, displayed at Garner Bros., 207-213 South Third, a $100 buggy and harness, displayed at Powell-Rogers, 129-131 North Third. The above three prizes will be given to the three district leaders in the order of the number of votes credited to them.

The three persons who receive the second highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes in their order of rank—a $65 watch on display at Pollock's, 333 Broadway, a $50 lady's or man's watch at Nagel and Meyer's, corner Third and Broadway, a $50 Miller range, displayed at Hank Bros., 212 Broadway.

The right is reserved to alter these rules should necessity demand.

Contestants may secure subscriptions anywhere they wish. For instance a candidate in District 3 is entitled to turn in subscriptions from District 2 or District 1, and vice versa.

New subscribers are those who were not taking The Sun May 23, the date of the start of the contest. Transfer from one member of a family to another or to someone else living in the same house will not be counted as a new subscription.

The three persons receiving the third highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes, a $37.50 refrigerator, displayed at Henneberger's, 422 Broadway, a $25 chair or other furniture from Rhodes, Burford's, 112-116 North Fourth, a $25 lady's or man's watch on display at J. L. Wanner's, 311 Broadway.

Three additional prizes for the three districts are added and two scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools and one scholarship in the Paducah Central Business College, offering the choice of nine courses. These prizes will be awarded in the three different districts so that candidates receiving the second highest number of votes in their respective districts may choose one of these scholarships instead of the merchandise prize. Should the second highest candidates not desire one of these scholarships, the third highest candidates may choose them. If these two classes do not wish the scholarships they will be awarded to the fourth highest candidates in the three districts.

In addition the management of The Sun will spend $100 in special prizes to be distributed to busy candidates during the progress of the contest, making a grand total of more than $2,000 in prizes, to be distributed gratis.

Table of Values.

Besides the coupons which are printed daily in The Sun and which are good for the number of votes printed on them if voted before the time limit stated, contestants may secure subscription votes according to the following schedule:

THE CONVENTION

and forbidding any increase until an investigation and its necessity is proven. Also declared for permanent tariff commission and contained a strong anti-trust plank. Cooper signed the report alone and made a speech supporting the substitute.

Senator Cooper denied there was any attack on the courts and said recent events proved the necessity of the reform advocated.

The minority report, except the planks demanding direct election of United States senators, the physical valuation of railroads and the publication of campaign contributions, was defeated by a vote of 952 to 282. One Wisconsin, one New Jersey and two South Dakota delegates supported the report. Campaign publicity was defeated by 880 to 94. Physical valuation was defeated by 917 to 63. The states supporting campaign publicity were: Idaho, 6; Indiana, 13; Kentucky, 3; Maryland, 1; Missouri, 3; Nebraska, 16; New Jersey, 1; New York, 6; Pennsylvania, 8; South Dakota, 6; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 25. Direct election of senators defeated by 86 to 114. The majority report was then adopted and roll call for nomination called.

Labor Leaders Dissatisfied.

Chicago, June 18.—Leaders of the American Federation of Labor are downcast over the rejection of their labor planks. Gompers refused to discuss the situation, but John Mitchell said: "I regard it as being equivalent to no anti-injunction plank. It sounds as though it promised something and may be the opening wedge but of itself has no value."

Vice Presidential Talk.

With the possibility of the presidential nomination being made this afternoon the talk this morning is again centering on the vice presidency. Everyone is uncertain, and are waiting word from the Taft leaders. The Fairbanks boom took another upward jump despite his letter last night declining to accept. It is believed Fairbanks is only placing himself in a position to be forced. Talk of Cummings and Dooliver are also renewed. The candidacy of John Hammond blew up because California, which he believed would nominate him, decided to nominate George Knight.

Chicago, June 18.—An agreement was reached last night by the representatives of all candidates by which the nominating and seconding speeches for president were materially curtailed. The agreement was that only the nominating and one seconding speech shall be made for each candidate and that the long list of seconding speeches which have been heretofore announced will be abandoned. The speeches for Taft were by Theodore E. Burton, of Cleveland, placing the secretary in nomination, and George A. Knight, of California, seconding the nomination.

The Anti-Injunction Plank.

The text of the plank that caused the only real fight of the convention is as follows: "We declare for such an amendment of the statutes of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the use of the writ of injunction as will on the one hand prevent the summary issue of such orders without proper consideration, and on the other will preserve and undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their process, to the end that justice may be done at all times and to all parties."

The Plank Modified.

The modified plank asserts that "the Republican party has always and always will uphold the process and proceedings of the courts and has absolute faith in their integrity and uprightness; nevertheless it believes that injunction practices should be modified as to provide that only where irreparable damage to property is imminent, the courts may grant injunctions without notice."

"It is also specified that due notice shall be given of impending injunction proceedings."

This modified injunction plank was believed to be acceptable to many more members of the committee than

No mention is made in the platform of statehood for Arizona and New Mexico.

At midnight the full committee had agreed to accept all the planks recommended by the sub-committee, except those relating to injunctions, the civil rights of negroes, Panama canal, postal savings banks, the tariff and immigration. These were reserved because of the desire on the part of members of the full committee to discuss at some length each of these provisions. The other planks were accepted after a brief and formal discussion.

It was understood that the injunction plank would receive special consideration, and many members have evinced the disposition to oppose it, notwithstanding that the provision was agreed to by all the members of the sub-committee, including those who had hitherto opposed it. At midnight the indications were favorable for an all night session.

The committee at 1 a. m. this morning had agreed to the tariff, Philippine tariff, currency, trust and postal savings banks planks.

Resolution Committee Completes Work.

Chicago, June 18.—The platform was finally completed by the full committee this morning. Wade Ellis, Senators Long, of Kansas; Hopkins, of Illinois, and Congressman Dazell, of Missouri, were appointed as a sub-committee to supervise the final preparation and the platform was presented shortly after the convention opened. The anti-injunction plank was adopted, the states favoring the plank being Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Alaska, Arizona, New Mexico, Porto Rico, Philippines.

Opposing were California, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Oregon, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, District of Columbia, Hawaii.

Anti-injunction plank is a compromise written by Wade Ellis, of Ohio. The plank was only adopted after a telegram from Taft insisting that adoption of the plank was imperative, and a message from Roosevelt urging its adoption had been shown the members. The fight was the hottest since the Democratic convention of 1896.

Wisconsin delegates offered several suggestions but were voted down.

WILD OVATION FOR ROOSEVELT WEDNESDAY

Chicago, June 18.—The second day of the Republican convention brought the long expected Roosevelt yell—a whirlwind of enthusiasm which raged within the vast amphitheater of the Coliseum for fully 45 minutes yesterday, for a time presenting to the timid the spectre of a Roosevelt stampede.

This demonstration was decidedly the feature of the day, otherwise notable for a stirring speech from the permanent chairman of the convention, Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts; for the practical procedure in placing the convention on a smooth running basis, and for the final defeat of the plan to reduce the representation of southern states at future national conventions.

When Pandemonium Broke Loose.

Permanent organization was effected and permanent chairman, senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, took the chair. Almost at the very beginning of his speech Lodge launched the sentence which electrified the assemblage into the first real demonstration and wild enthusiasm.

"The president," exclaimed Lodge, "is the best abused and the most popular man in the United States today."

Instantly a shout broke from the galleries and was echoed back from the floor, at first only a tempest of detached yells and cat-calls and shouts of "Teddy," but gradually it gathered force and volume until it swelled to a whirlwind of sound and motion, as delegates and spectators rose en masse, mounting chairs, waving banners, hats, handkerchiefs, flags and newspapers, anything which could be seized upon to add turbulence to the scene. Among the tumult the bands struck up, but the crash of brass and drums was completely lost in the babel of sound which swelled from 14,000 throats.

For the first minute Lodge stood waiting to proceed, occasionally raising his hand for silence, only to be awakened a defiant yell twice louder than before.

"Four, Four, Four Years More."

Five minutes passed and instead of abating the uproar was increasing. The sergeant-at-arms moved up a chair for the presiding officer and Lodge sank back to await the bull in the storm.

Five minutes—ten—fifteen—There was no lull no abatement. A hoarse roar had taken the place of detached yells.

"Four, four, four years more," came in a deafening chorus in full sweep from the gallery, each "four, four, four," exploding like the boom of heavy artillery.

Fifteen minutes—twenty—Twenty five—

Now the delegations were joining in the putbreak. Some had mounted chairs—Texas, Kentucky and Tennessee—and were gesticulating madly. One delegate, far to the left, had torn off his coat and was whipping it wildly above his head. New York viewed the storm with calm and so did Ohio, except, strangely, one of the lonesome Foraker delegates, Judge Marcus Shoup, who mounted on a chair kept both arms in motion, waving a flag and a newspaper and his voice joining in the general pandemonium.

Thirty minutes—thirty-five—forty—forty-five—

Storm Lasted Forty-five Minutes.

A full three-quarters of an hour had passed in this bewildering confusion of sight and sound. For a time some fear was felt by some that a stampede was eminent. But the political generals were glad to give the pent-up enthusiasm of the multitude this outlet of expression and at no time was there the slightest apprehension among them that the well-devised plans would miscarry by some overpowering movement. Frank H. Hitchcock, Taft's manager, moved about the floor smiling as the tumult was at its height.

Will Cheer Taft Today, is Predicted.

"The cheers for Roosevelt today will be for Taft tomorrow," said he with confidence.

With the subsidence of the Roosevelt storm, Lodge completed his stirring speech, and then the convention turned to the reports of other committees. That on rules and order of business brought a majority report against the resolution reducing the representation to a basis of the Republican vote cast by those states. The minority report, in which 17 states concurred was defeated; after a sharp contest.

The vote was 566 against 471, a margin of 17 votes in a total of 977; three delegates being absent. The change of a single state might have altered the entire result.

Although defeated, Burke said the result had shown the tremendous growth of sentiment in favor of this restricted representation and that in his opinion the future success of the plan appeared beyond doubt.
